

JAS. R. MORRIS, PROPRIETOR.
WOODFIELD, OHIO, OCT. 26, 1853.

Murder Trial.

The trial of Daniel Salisbury for the murder of George Sellers, in June last, was concluded on Friday of last week. The jury, after deliberating some four or five hours, returned a verdict of "guilty of murder in the second degree." The prisoner was sentenced to the penitentiary for life.

We had expected to give our readers a full report of the evidence in to-day's paper; but not having had time to copy our rough notes, we are compelled to defer it till next week.

The Election.

We are at this time, (Monday,) unable to give the majorities on the State ticket. Governor MEDILL's majority will probably reach 40,000. Myres, for Lieutenant Governor, may have a majority of 10,000, perhaps considerably more. BARNEY's majority for School Commissioner, it is thought, will reach 15 or 18,000. The old line whigs will have about one-sixth of the next House of Representatives, and one-eighth of the Senate. Rather a poor show for whiggery.

Trouble in the Camp.

The Democracy in New York have got into a pretty mess—such an one as they will not likely get out of very soon. Their divisions and bickerings must certainly result in overwhelming defeat at the coming election, if their opponents are at all united—of which there is some doubt.

We confess to not having kept very well posted up with the causes which have led to this family quarrel—not even since it has assumed importance from having extended to certain members of President Pierce's Cabinet and the Collector at New York, and other appointees of the Government in that city.

But one thing, however, we think ought to be done, and that is, the President ought to send every New York appointee, no matter to what division of the party he may belong, and fill their places with Democrats from other States where the Administration is receiving a harmonious and united support, and perhaps these New York grumblers would in time learn to behave themselves. If these divisions occurred upon any matter of principle, they would be overlooked; but when it is merely a question of "spolia," they become intolerable; and it is time missionaries were sent among them to take charge of those offices of government about which they cannot themselves agree.

Total

The above table contains the vote for Governor and Lieutenant Governor as far as received. We hope to be able to give the full returns next week.

Probate Judgeship.

Gov. MEDILL has appointed JOHN W. OKEY, Esq., of this place, Probate Judge for this County, in place of ELIUS MORRIS, Esq., resigned. Mr. OKEY is well qualified to discharge the duties of the office, and will, no doubt, make an able and efficient public officer.

Legislature of Ohio.

The following are the Statesmen, as a list of the Members elected to the next Legislature so far as we have been able to obtain them. In a few instances we have been unable to ascertain the first name of the members, and of their politics. We shall correct the table and fill it up as early as possible. Those marked with a * are Whigs; with a † are "fusionists."

Special Notices.

CONCERT.

A CONCERT of Vocal Music will be held in Brownsville, Monroe County, Ohio, by JOHN B. SMITH, Vocalist, assisted by nine classes, under his instruction. Exercises to commence on Saturday, November 5th, at 10 o'clock, A. M., and to close at 4 o'clock, P. M., of the same day. The lovers of music are invited to attend.
Oct. 26, 1853.

A well-qualified school teacher will find a desirable situation at Buckhill District, in Ohio township. Application must be made soon.

Examination of School Teachers.

THE Board of School Examiners will hold meetings for the examination of Teachers, as follows:
Stafford, the 4th and 5th days of November.
Antioch, the 11th and 12th.
Clarion, the 18th and 19th.
At which places, applicants for certificates must attend and be examined, as no certificates can be granted except at advertised meetings, and no other meetings will be held the present year.
Applicants unknown to the Board must not forget to have certificates of character from reliable persons known to some member of the Board.
An additional day has been assigned to each place, from the fact that one day does not afford time enough to examine a class in the different branches required by law.
Applicants not examined in the first day of the first day of examination, or they will not be examined. The Board, from necessity, are compelled to enforce this rule.
The following certificates of the higher branches will be examined on the same days, but at such times as may be convenient.
Remember these are the last meetings for 1853, and the last chances to get certificates.
By order of the Board,
JAMES MITCHELL, Clerk of Board
Sept. 28, 1853.

Safe and Sure Remedy.

This is to certify that I have used and seen used to great advantage and benefit, Sloan's Condition Powder for the different diseases for which it is intended, and I would recommend it to the public as a safe and sure remedy, especially for common colds, coughs, heaves, &c.

DR. GUYSSOT'S EXTRACT OF YELLOW DOCK AND SARSAPARILLA.

Thousands of individuals are cursed with grievous complaints, which they inherit from their parents. The use of the Yellow Dock and Sarsaparilla will prevent all this, and save a vast amount of misery, and many valuable lives, for it thoroughly expels from the system the latent taint, which is the seed of disease, and so takes off the curse by which the sins or misfortune of the parents are so often visited upon the innocent offspring.

Parents owe it to their children to guard them against the effects of maldies that may be communicated by decent, and children of parents that have at any time been affected with Consumption, Scrofula or Syphilis, owe it to themselves to take precaution against the disease being revived in them. Guyssot's Extract of Yellow Dock and Sarsaparilla is a sure antidote in such cases.

THE GLOBE.

THE OFFICIAL PAPER OF CONGRESS AND NEWSPAPER FOR THE PEOPLE.

It will be seen by the annexed extract from a letter of General Washington, in David Stevens, dated New York, 17th March, 1790, that the idea of such a paper as I propose to make the Globe originated in the mind of the Father of his Country. He said:
"It is to be lamented that the editors of the different Gazettes in the Union do not more generally and more correctly (instead of stuffing their papers with scurrilous and nonsensical declamation) publish the debates in Congress on all great national questions. The principles upon which the difference of opinion arises, as presented by the public, and the best data for its judgment."—Sparks's Writings of Washington, vol. 10, p. 84.

THE DAILY GLOBE.

IN submitting to the consideration of a great political party, I cherished the purpose of continuing the Congressional Globe, and, if possible, in time, to perfect it into a full history of the action of Congress, giving to the public, in this office might be combined with that of a regular newspaper; and it is certain that the avidity of the public for news of the less important kind greatly contributes to give wings to the wingier matter which may be called Congressional news.

Having succeeded in my purpose of perfecting the reports of the debates in Congress and giving to the public a more complete and accurate intelligence sent from the seat of Government in any other form whatever, it will be an attempt to pay the scraps of news forwarded to cities within two hundred and fifty miles of Washington by telegraph. Before the events thus transmitted are sent to the morning papers, for instance, of the city of New York, the Globe containing them will have reached the post office of that city by the Express Mail of the previous night. The process by which this will be effected I now propose to the public.

I will have a corps of sixteen reporters in Congress; each in succession will make notes during five minutes, then retire, prepare them for the Press, put them in a box, and send them to the compositor, and thus, while a debate is going on in Congress, it will be put in type, and in a few minutes after it is ended it will be printed. I shall by this means be enabled to send by the Express Mail of 5 o'clock P. M. for the East, West, and North, and by that of 9 o'clock P. M. for the South, all the proceedings of Congress up to the latest hour of the day. I shall also send the accurate debates of Congress to the cities two hundred and fifty miles from the Capital before their daily morning papers are in circulation. The news received from the country by telegraph, I will obtain from the Executive Departments, through official sources, the matters of interest to the country, and, through agents, employed for the purpose, all the city news of consequence in sufficient time to be put into the Globe and mailed in the Express Mail trains. In this way I hope to create a new era in the dissemination of news from Washington. Heretofore no newspaper has attempted to give authentic accounts of things done at Washington before the public mind; a distance of several hundred miles, or by letter-writers biased by peculiar views.

Washington has now become so great a center of political interest during the year—the proceedings of the Executive Departments and the information collected by them even during their absence from the city—has become so important to the interests of every section of the country—that I shall continue the publication of the daily paper permanently, with a view to become the vehicle of the most authentic and reliable news of the day. It is part of my plan to reduce the price of the daily paper to half that of similar daily papers; and thus I hope to extend its circulation so as to include the entire country. To subscribers in the remote parts of the country, I will send them the paper by express, and thus I hope to extend its circulation so as to include the entire country.

The new Congress presents much change in the course of public affairs as the result of the next session. Many vast interests which were brought up in the last Congress are laid over to the next Congress, and the action of a Democratic Executive. The new modeling of the tariff; the new land system; the question of giving homesteads, and making every citizen a landowner, these great questions, which are the basis of the great interests of the country, are now before the public mind, and will be the subject of much discussion. The new modeling of the tariff; the new land system; the question of giving homesteads, and making every citizen a landowner, these great questions, which are the basis of the great interests of the country, are now before the public mind, and will be the subject of much discussion.

To these elements of interest another is likely to be introduced by the interposition of the agitation of Europe. After nearly forty years of peace in Europe, there is an evident feeling that now seems fraught with incidences threatening war; and "war comes, in all likelihood there will follow such universal change that the United States will be brought into the conflict. In fact, from late events it is apparent that our Government is already drawn into European difficulties. These circumstances are calculated to draw public mind towards the next Congress will be much expectation.

THE DAILY GLOBE will be printed on fine paper, double royal size, with small type, (brevier) and will contain five columns a page. The Congressional Globe will be made up of the proceedings of Congress and the running debates as given by the Reporters. The speeches which members may choose to write out themselves will, together with the minutes of the proceedings of the United States, the reports of the Executive Departments, and the laws passed by Congress, be added in an Appendix. Formerly I received subscriptions for the Congressional Globe and Appendix separately. But this has not been found satisfactory, inasmuch as it gave an incomplete view of the transactions in Congress; and therefore I have concluded not to sell them apart. The Globe and Appendix will be sold by the number of both by clubbing in case individuals shall find it too onerous to be at the charge of both.

To facilitate the circulation of the Congressional Globe and Appendix, I have concluded to publish a joint edition of the two, making it free of postage. I annex it, as the law may be so adjusted to postmasters generally: Joint Resolution providing for the distribution of the laws of Congress and the debates thereon.

With a view to the cheap circulation of the laws of Congress and the debates contributing to the true interpretation thereof, and to make free the communication between the representative and constituent bodies:
Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That from and after the next session of Congress, the Congressional Globe and Appendix, which contains the laws and the debates thereon, shall pass free through the mails, and be sent to the subscribers by the Express Mail, at the rate of one dollar per annum, in advance, and shall be sent to the subscribers by the Express Mail, at the rate of one dollar per annum, in advance, and shall be sent to the subscribers by the Express Mail, at the rate of one dollar per annum, in advance.

As I sell the DAILY GLOBE at half the price of similar publications, so the CONGRESSIONAL GLOBE and APPENDIX is sold for half the cost of so much composition, press-work, and paper. This I can afford to do, because the subscription of Congress almost covers the cost of composition, and this enables me to sell for little more than the cost of press-work and paper. It requires the sale of about 5,000 copies to reimburse expenses. If 500 only were sold, the cost of each copy would be about $104! The debates in the English Parliament cost about eleven times as much as I charge subscribers for this debate. Congress, equal in quantity, and as well reported and printed.
The next session of Congress will be a long one, and it is believed the Congressional Globe and Appendix will reach 4,000 royal quarto pages, as the last long session made 3,842; and the long one before that made 3,901 royal quarto pages—four large folios each. The Congressional Globe and Appendix will file all the numbers received by them, I will supply any that may miscarry in the mails. This work increases in value as it grows old. The first seven volumes are now commanded three times, and some of the subsequent ones twice, their original subscription price.

The subscription price for the Congressional Globe (including the Appendix and the laws) is six dollars.

Complete indexes will be made out and forwarded to subscribers soon after the session is ended.
Subscribers for the Daily should have their money here by the 5th, and for the Congressional Globe by the 15th of December. The money must accompany an order for either the Daily or Congressional Globe, Bank notes current where a subscriber resides will be received at par.
